Hi Dean Eldredge,

My name is Emily, I am a senior and president of Jewish Student Organization, JSO. Last week, I and another representative from JSO, Gladys, met with Dr. Wenzel and USG to discuss our concerns about the creation of Student Justice for Palestine, SJP, here at Fordham. We understand that the decision is up to USG, however, we would also like the opportunity to meet with you to discuss our concerns because we are aware that you have a say in the decision as well. We think this is a very important decision to be made by USG, and we would appreciate it if everyone was as informed as possible before a decision is made. Please let me know what days and times work best for you, but if you are unable to meet, I can cc Gladys to the conversation and we can share our concerns via email. On behalf of JSO, we really appreciate USG and yourself for taking the time to listen to our concerns and questions.

Best,
Emily Sitner

EVICT ON NOTICE

We regret to inform you that your suite is scheduled for demolition in three days.

If you do not vacate the premises by midnight on 23 April 2017 we retain the right to destroy all remaining belongings. We cannot be held responsible for property or personal remaining inside the premises. Charges for demolition will be applied to your student accounts.

Eviction notices are routinely given to Palestinian families living under Israeli occupation for no other reason than their ethnicity. Forced evictions are arbitrary, racist, humiliating, and in violation of Article 1 of the Fourth Geneva Convention.

Palestinian homes are destroyed as part of the state of Israel's ongoing attempts to ethnically cleanse the region of its Arab inhabitants and maintain an exclusively "Jewish" character of the area. By destroying Palestinian homes, the state makes room for illegal Israeli settlements. The Israeli government itself describes this process as "Judaization."

The United States government, American corporations, and NYU faculty pension funds support these policies through foreign aid and investment.

27,000 Palestinian homes have been destroyed since 1967.

150,000 Palestinians have
result of these policies.

THIS IS NOT A REAL EVICTION NOTICE.

This is intended to draw attention to the reality that Palestinians confront on a regular basis.

STUDENTS FOR
PALESTINE

Sampling of Students for Justice in Palestine (SJP) & Others
Attempts to Disrupt Freedom of Assembly and Freedom of Association of Jewish and Pro-Israel Students

1. September 8, 2016 - Georgetown University: A group of students interrupted an event hosted by the Center for Jewish Civilization on Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's career. The students held a banner that read "Netanyahu is a War Criminal" and chanted, "From the river to the sea, Palestine will be free." The demonstration occurred at the beginning of the question and answer time for the event, after a student referred Netanyahu's policies toward Palestinians as imperial genocide. A prepared statement by the protesters stated, "We're concerned that a conversation about the Israeli state took place without talking about it as an occupation and apartheid." Georgetown University Police Department (GUPO) officers immediately removed the protesters from Gaston Hall, as event organizers informed them that they were in violation of the university's Speech and Expression Policy.
2. May 18, 2016 - UC Irvine: A Students Supporting Israel event co-sponsored by Hillel was successfully disrupted by SJP and others. According to SSI, "The police had to escort attendees out of the event for their own safety." Hillel released a statement elaborating that SJP and others, "made aggressive and threatening remarks to participants and physically intimidated and threatened one student attempting to enter the event." A video of the event showed protesters shouting, "Intifada, Intifada/long live the Intifada," and "when people are occupied/resistance is justified."
3. May 12, 2016 - Stanford University: SJP members disrupted and held a "die-in" in the middle of a Stanford Israel Association & the Jewish Student Association sponsored "Israel Block Party."
4. April 19, 2016 - University of Maryland: About two dozen protesters arrived at a Hillel and Jewish Student Union event called, "Israel Fest" and loudly disrupted the event for about an hour. The protesters chanted, "Fight the power, turn the tide, end Israeli apartheid" and held signs saying "Zionism kills." The protesters blocked a pathway and were instructed to move by police. One Jewish student exclaimed, "This is a cultural event, and they have every right to protest but not to disrupt an event that we've put on."
5. April 17, 2016 - Boston University: Approximately 30 members of Boston Students for Justice in Palestine protested a Boston University Hillel and BU Students for Israel event, "Israel Indie Freedom Fest." One protester had a sign saying "Zionism = Racism." Protesters condoned terrorism chanting, "Resistance is justified when people are occupied." Protesters additionally accused Hillel of Islamophobia in printed pamphlets entitled, "Is Boston University Hillel Islamophobic?" which claimed that BU Hillel backs Islamophobic beliefs. The pamphlet stated, "One of several prime examples of BU Hillel's Islamophobic connection is vis a vis ... [Committee for Accuracy on Middle East Reporting], a known Islamophobic organization ... that plans events through [BU's] campus" where the pamphlet then cited a report by the Council on American-Islamic Relations.
6. April 14, 2016 - University of New Mexico: Pro-Palestinian protesters successfully disrupted the "Israeli Soldiers Tour" that was hosted by Lobos for Israel by moving to the front of the room with a large sign saying, "Israel Out of Palestine". Protestors chanted, "IDF, what do you say?" while students in the back of the room responded, "How many kids have you killed today!"
7. April 6, 2016 - San Francisco State University: GUJPS members and other protesters disrupted a Hillel event involving a speech by Jerusalem Mayor Nir Barkat where a few minutes into the speech, about two dozen protesters, with the intent of shutting down the event, entered and loudly shouted, "'Get the hell off our campus!'...Long live the Intifada... Intifada, Intifada...From the River to the Sea, Palestine Will be Free." They succeeded in stopping the event due to the loud disruptions that occurred for about an hour in a very clear willful, material and substantial disruption.

8. April 2, 2016 - Manhattanville College: At a Hillel event, an invited speaker was shouted down while talking about Israel and the BDS movement, and the heckler responsible screamed at the audience, "He is brainwashing you, don't believe anything he tells you, it's all lies."
9. March 16, 2016 - Brown University: Bestselling author Janet Mock cancelled a speech at Hillel in response to a petition stating it was inappropriate for her to appear at Hillel because the group has defended, "racial apartheid" and was "complicit in pinkwashing." The petition stated they were not against Mock speaking on campus, so long as she did not do so at Hillel. The organizers, Moral Voices, criticized her cancellation stating, "given that Hillel is the center for Jewish life on this campus—with a mandate to support the interests and meet the needs of a very diverse constituency of Jewish students on College Hill (ranging widely in their political, religious, and cultural inclinations)—does simply engaging in a Jewish space render one unfit to do justice work?"
10. March 7, 2016 - UC Davis: Students and others disrupted an Aggies for Israel event with loud chants during a walk out. Chants included, "Long live the Intifada," "Intifada, intifada," and "When Palestine is occupied, resistance is justified" which condoned terrorism. Chants also included the demonizing statements, "Israel is anti-Black," and "Palestine will be free, fight white supremacy," as well as the delegitimizing statement, "Israel is an apartheid state."
11. February 26, 2016 - Florida International University: SJP staged a walkout from Israeli Ambassador Danny Danon's lecture which, according to a SJFacebook post, resulted in the event "being cut short by 30 minutes and on his way out [Ambassador Danon] had to take a different route out of the building."
12. February 24, 2016 - University of South Florida: During a StandWithUs event on Feb 24, with two former Israeli soldiers, about 25 supporters of the boycotts, divestment and sanctions campaign against Israel entered the lecture hall waving Palestinian flags and banners, interrupted the lecturers numerous times, and shouted at the lecturers.
13. February 22, 2016 - University of Georgia: At an event where two Israeli soldiers came to speak about their experiences in the IDF, during the middle of one of the soldiers speaking, an SJP member stood up and interrupted the soldier saying, "as students of the University of Georgia, we do not support this!" After which, a group of about 25 people got up and walked out of the program.
14. February 22, 2016 - University of Tennessee: At a Judaic Studies program event, with Michael Brenner, Ph.D., chair of Israel Studies at American University, who gave a talk entitled "The Idea of A Jewish State from Herzl to Netanyahu flyer," 15 student protestors stood up at various places in the audience and held signs that read, "Israel is an apartheid state." They also gave out flyers that "pointed out the difference between anti-Zionism and anti-Semitism and highlighted the undertones of ethnic cleansing inherent in the history of the state of Israel."
15. February 21, 2016 - University of Chicago: At a StandWithUs event with Palestinian Human Rights Activist Bassem Tamid, protestors shouted down the speaker, to the point where the event ended early. One protestor even threatened the speaker physically. The young man is heard in a video of the event yelling in Arabic, "I'm going to destroy this place!" Later, he was heard saying, "I'm going to kill this motherf*!" and "Wait until you go to your car!" He also said, "we" are going to be at Eid's lecture at DePaul University in Chicago on Saturday evening, so he should be "ready for" us.
16. February 21, 2016 - Northwestern University: Palestinian activist Bassem Eid cancelled a speech at Hillel Sunday due to the presence of a man who heckled him at previous engagements and following a few men at the event verbally accosting Eid prior to the start of the speech.
17. January 28, 2016 - Brown University: SJP at Brown University announced a protest event, "Protesting the Sharansky and Douglas Talk: End Zionist Whitewashing of Apartheid" and stated, "Join us at 7pm outside of Brown University's Salomon Hall to protest this egregious display of Settler Colonial apologism." During the protest of the event itself, about 30 protestors shouted, "From the river to the sea, Palestine will be free!" which is effectively a call for the elimination of the Jewish state, and handed out fliers that accused Israel of "ethnic cleansing" while falsely representing the flier as a "program addition."

18. November 13, 2015 – University of Texas, Austin: Twelve members of the Palestine Solidarity Committee (PSC) disrupted a public event hosted by Professor Ami Pedahzur of UT's Institute for Israeli Studies titled "The Origin of a Species: The Birth of the Israeli Defense Forces' Military Culture." The students not only disrupted the speech, when Prof. Pedahzur and another professor tried to get them to stop, they increased the volume of their chants calling for the destruction of Israel and "Long Live the Intifada."
19. November 10, 2015 – Johns Hopkins University: About fifteen minutes into a talk by Alan Dershowitz at Johns Hopkins, a group of students from Hopkins Feminists stood up and held signs that read, "You Are Rape Culture." The students were dressed in black and stuck duct tape over their mouths to show solidarity with victims of rape. Then, as a sign of protest, these students walked out of the event. Separately, SJP members held up signs which read "Stop Defending Occupation" and "Stop Supporting Apartheid," and then walked out of the event.
20. November 6, 2015 – UC Santa Cruz: SJP members interrupted a Slugs for Israel tabling event showing solidarity with Israeli victims of terror by holding a die-in, in which several students dressed in black lay motionless on the ground, representing Palestinians killed by Israelis. In addition, the "dead" students put signs on themselves saying, "Resistance is Not Terrorism," an expression which justifies violence against Jews.
21. November 5, 2015 – Goucher College: Approximately 15 members of TALQ BIG, an anti-Israel LGBTQ student organization at Goucher, engaged in a pre-meditated and coordinated series of disruptive actions, which included brandishing anti-Israel posters, chanting anti-Israel slogans, and verbally disrupting and arguing with the speaker. One of the students who organized the event posted about the disruption on Facebook stating, "We were attacked and we were bullied."
22. November 3, 2015 – University of Minnesota: UMN SJP and Anti-War Committee planned and successfully carried out a disruption of a talk by Israeli Professor Moshe Halbertal. In addition, outside of the lecture hall protesters held signs accusing Halbertal of being a war criminal and calling Israel an "apartheid state," as well as featured a display of a woman holding a bloodied doll with a sign that read "Nothing to see here. Just another Dead Palestinian baby." A protest organizer said that one of the purposes of the protest was to urge the university to honor the academic boycott of Israel. SJP posted a message on its Facebook page making clear that it viewed the disruption as part of the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions movement.
23. October 28, 2015 – Tufts University: Members of Tufts SJP disrupted "Taste of Israel," an annual event hosted by Friends of Israel to introduce students to Israel culture and food. SJP members distributed flyers and held signs that had language delegitimizing Israel, including: "Taste of Israeli Occupation, "Don't dip into Israel apartheid."

Mr. Haim Saban
10100 Santa Monica Boulevard
Suite 2600
Los Angeles, CA 90067

Dear Haim:

I am writing to express my alarm over the Boycott, Divestment, and Sanction movement, or "BDS," a global effort to isolate the State of Israel by ending commercial and academic exchanges.

I know you agree that we need to make countering BDS a priority. I am seeking your advice on how we can work together – across party lines and with a diverse array of voices – to reverse this trend with information and advocacy, and fight back against further attempts to isolate and delegitimize Israel.

As you know, BDS seeks to punish Israel and dictate how the Israelis and Palestinians should resolve the core issues of their conflict. This is not the path to peace. I remain convinced that Israel's long-term security and future as a Jewish state depends on having two states for two peoples. But that outcome can only be achieved through direct negotiations between Israelis and Palestinians – it cannot be imposed from the outside or by unilateral actions.

I am also very concerned by attempts to compare Israel to South African apartheid. Israel is a vibrant democracy in a region dominated by autocracy, and it faces existential threats to its survival. Particularly at a time when anti-Semitism is on the rise across the world – especially in Europe – we need to repudiate forceful efforts to malign and undermine Israel and the Jewish people. After all, it was only six months ago that four Jews were targeted and killed in a Kosher supermarket in Paris as they did their Sabbath shopping.

BDS is the latest attempt to single out Israel on the world stage, but we've seen this sort of attack before, at the UN and elsewhere. As Senator and Secretary of State, I saw how crucial it is for America to defend Israel at every turn. I have opposed dozens of anti-Israel resolutions at the UN, the Human Rights Council, and other international organizations. I condemned the biased Goldstone Report, making it clear that Israel must be allowed to defend itself like any other country. And I made sure the United States blocked Palestinian attempts at the UN to unilaterally declare statehood. Time after time, no matter the venue, I have made it clear that America will always stand up for Israel – and that's what I'll always do as President.

Now I am seeking your thoughts and recommendations on how leaders and communities across America can work together to counter BDS. From Congress and state legislatures to boardrooms and classrooms, we need to engage all people of good faith, regardless of their political persuasion or their views on policy specifics, in explaining why the BDS campaign is counterproductive to the pursuit of peace and harmful to Israelis and Palestinians alike.

I hope you will work with me on this priority. It was more than three decades ago when Bill and I took our first trip to Israel, walked the ancient streets of Jerusalem's Old City, and fell in love with the country and its people. Israel became a special place for us, and I'm lucky to have had many opportunities to return and to make many dear friends there over the years. The Jewish state is a modern day miracle – a vibrant bloom in the middle of a desert. We must nurture and protect it.

I will be speaking out publicly on this issue in the weeks ahead, so I am eager to hear your perspective and advice.

With warm regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Look forward to working with you on this
