Steve: I did not mean to be presumptuous. I would ask you to consider granting me a week from the date of the scheduled meeting with Mr. Asensio to oppose your motion - otherwise I will have to basically prepare that motion in full even though we may not need to file it, or file it on January 18. This is a small office as well and that short deadline puts a much greater strain on me than it would on a large firm like yours. I am doing my level best to bring clarity and professionalism to Mr. Asensio and I hope you understand and appreciate that. Let me know. Warmly, Mitchell Cantor

Mitchell -- apparently you decided to unilaterally double the extension that we discussed. This is not productive, particularly given the history between my firm and your client.

As you know, your opposition to my client's motion for default is due today. Consistent with our discussions, we are amenable to a 1-week extension subject to our meeting with Mr. Asensio next Wednesday.

In the spirit of good faith, I will agree to add an additional day to the agreed upon deadline, so that your opposition to our motion would be due next Thursday, a day after our meeting next Wednesday. We can reassess whether any further extensions make sense thereafter.

Please recirculate your draft of the stip to myself and Matt to reflect the deadlines referenced herein. Additionally, please add me to the signature block, as I will be signing for our firm.

Steve

Gentlemen: Further to our meeting with Mr. Asensio at your office next Wednesday, attached please find my proposed Stipulation. I have simply extended all deadlines out 2 weeks. If it meets with your approval just sign and return. I will countersign and e-file. I am sending in word format in the event you wish to modify it. Warmly, Mitch Cantor

Steve: Mr. Asensio is available most days next week. I am not available on Thursday morning, January 18. Mondays are usually very busy. With that in mind, would either Tuesday, January 16 or Wednesday, January 17 work for you? Mr. Asensio might be available at the end of this week as well although that might be difficult. Please let me know. Mitchell Cantor

Yes, I would memorialize with a stip. As I mentioned last night, it should also extend plaintiffs' response date for reply by the same amount of time so that we are not squeezed on the reply. You can send a draft to me and my colleague, Matthew Weiser, cc'd here. We will turn any comments promptly.

Thank you very much. Do you think we should formalize the extension in a written agreement/stipulation? I will inquire of my client which dates are best for him and let you know as soon as he tells me. Warmly, Mitch Cantor

Mitchell - I have approval on our end for the extension and in-person meeting. I will revert back tomorrow with some proposed dates. Please let me know if there are particular dates next week that would work better on your end.
