EROS: Reducing Estimates Related To Last Week's Downgrade

• Reducing estimates related to last week's downgrade. Given the chaos around EROS last week – including endless emails and calls related to the plunge in its stock price (-53% vs. S&P +4% since the 10/13 Investor Day), which only accelerated on Friday due to management's call with sell-side analysts – our estimate changes somehow didn't get pushed through the system in our 10/23 downgrade note titled, "EROS: Stepping To The Sidelines - Downgrading to Market Perform." As a result, we're publishing our new estimates here to account for the removal of ErosNow from our model. Our new F'16 and F'17 EPS estimates drop to $0.91 and $1.33 from $0.94 and $1.63, respectively.

Valuation Range: $20.00 to $22.00

Our val. range is based on our 5-year DCF, using 4% terminal growth and 9% discount rate. Risks incl. elevated receivables, investments in India by US media players, currency, under-reporting by theaters, & overhang from family ownership.

Investment Thesis:

We like the LT growth story, but remain on the sidelines until we see improvement in receivables and get more comfortable with ErosNow.
